 	FEBRUARY 2016 ATHLETE OF THE MONTH  The February Female Athlete of the Month is Sophia Vivero from the Bantam Basketball Team. Throughout the month (and throughout the season) she was an inspiration on the court, leading her team to a second place league finish and a berth in the Vancouver and District tournament. During the play-off run she averaged 5 steals and 15 points per game—shooting at 65%. When the grade eight season ended she joined the senior girls for three games in the Lower Mainland Tournament and played nearly every minute as their starting point guard. She fit in with the seniors seamlessly and was a genuine contributor to the success of their team. The January Male Athlete of the Month is Luke Fukusaku from the Bantam Basketball Team. Every time Luke steps on the basketball floor his play personifies the best effort an athlete can give. He is an excellent defensive player who was instrumental to the bantam boys press that terrorized opponents this season. Luke also demonstrated his competitiveness and willingness to sacrifice for the good of the team by crashing the boards and never backing down from opponents. Luke is also a gifted offensive player and was consistently one of the top scorers. He is an inspiration to those who watch him and possesses a work ethic all BMSS Lions should aspire to. The Coach of the Month for February is Mr. James Morton from the Senior Girls Basketball Team. According to the players who nominated him, he has taught the athletes a number of new skills and supported the players in many ways. He clearly brings a passion to the game and that was reflected in the level of play he was able to get out of his players. The players recognize his commitment and dedication to the team and are appreciative of the number of hours he volunteered to make them better athletes. Under his guidance, the team played to their strengths and came within one point of possibly getting in to the Provincials.
