Burnaby Mountain Secondary Dance Company

Burnaby Mountain’s Dance Company Course offers students the opportunity to progress further in their dance studies by bringing together like- minded dancers who share a passion for performance and a desire to be part of the creation process.

This year the dance company has embarked on two diverse journeys; character work that focuses on building performance and live research as inspiration.

In our first piece, titled “Home” dancers were led through many character building processes that worked toward the goal of building their own emotional performance. The piece, created for our Remembrance Day ceremony in October, asked the dancers to put themselves in the shoes of a mother, sister, brother, wife, husband, or best friend of somebody who has gone to war and perform those emotions. Our second journey took us to downtown Vancouver to conduct live research in the form of attending a Cirque du Soleil show. Aside from the acrobatic tricks, students were captured by the large personalities that entertained the crowd, and the artistry of the stage. The dancers used their new knowledge to help create this piece “Unstoppable” that tries to capture the elements of dramatic movement, acrobatics, powerful sound, stage artistry and entertaining personalities.
