Faculty of Land & Food Systems (LFS) at UBC - Virtual Open House	November 16 – 21, 2020 - Our programs in LFS are ideal for students who want to pursue a science program that focuses on using that knowledge to have social impact. This is where science meets society’s urgent needs. We need to protect our water, build resilience into our food supply, and figure out how to do it all with rising temperatures and shifting weather patterns. We need to figure out how better to feed humans, how better to understand the way our food nourishes and powers us, and how better to care for our food resources. Taste of LFS is a week-long virtual series of interactive workshops, presentations and social media content for anyone interested in applying to the Faculty of Land and Food Systems (LFS) at UBC. We will answer your questions about applying to UBC and help you to determine if an LFS program is right for you.
