

Student Self-Assessment of the Core Competencies – Celebration Conversations

What are the Core Competencies?

The Core Competencies are a set of intellectual, personal, social, and emotional skills and abilities that all students need to develop so that they can engage in deep, life-long learning.

There are seven Core Competencies:

Communication: How students exchange information, experiences and ideas.

- Acquire, interpret, and present information (includes inquiries)
- Explain/recount and reflect on experiences and accomplishments

Collaboration: How students work together to achieve a common goal

- Collaborate to plan, carry out, and review constructions and activities
- Connect and engage with others (to share and develop ideas)

Creative Thinking: How students generate new ideas and take them from thought to reality.

- Ideas have novelty and value
- Generating ideas
- Developing ideas

Critical Thinking: How students make judgements based on reasoning and available information.

- Analyze and critique
- Question and investigate
- Develop and design

Positive Personal and Cultural Identity: How students create healthy personal and cultural awareness in a pluralistic society.

- Relationships and cultural contexts help to shape who you are
- Personal values and choices
- Personal strengths and abilities

Personal Awareness and Responsibility: How students develop awareness of skills and strategies to stay healthy both physically and mentally.

- Self-determination (a sense of personal value and growing confidence)
- Self-regulation (taking responsibility for your own choices and actions)
- Well-being (mental, physical, emotional, social, cognitive, and spiritual wellness)

Social Responsibility: How students contribute positively to their families, community, society, and the environment.

- Contributing to community and caring for the environment
- Solving problems in peaceful ways
- Valuing diversity
- Building relationships

For more information visit: <https://curriculum.gov.bc.ca/> competencies or see the PowerPoint posted on the Mountain website at <http://mountain.sd41.bc.ca/students/core-competencies/>

Student Share Day

As a reflection and celebration of your learning and development in the Core Competencies, you will be participating in a Student to Student conversation of no more than 5 minutes in length. You will be assigned by your period 7 teacher, a partner to discuss the one or two Core Competencies you chose to focus on. Once this chat is completed, your teacher will check on teams that you have uploaded both your student handout form and evidence of your learning (projects, pictures of awards, a debate you wrote).

Use the space below to prepare – bring this sheet with you to help you in leading and speaking during your Student-Led Interview.

My name is _____ and I am in Grade _____.

The Core Competency/ies that I am presenting to you on today is/are (circle one or two):

Communication

Critical Thinking

Personal Awareness

Creative

Positive Personal

and Responsibility

Thinking

and Cultural Identity

Social Responsibility

The example from this school year that I have chosen is:

I chose this assignment because:

How does this assignment demonstrate my growth in this/these Core

Competency/ies? I am most proud of this part of this assignment:

I could have improved this part of this assignment:

While completing this assignment, I learned this about myself:

The Core Competencies are not a one-shot deal – they are meant to be skills and abilities that you grow and develop in over your lifetime. Thinking ahead to next school year, I am most interested in developing further in this/these Core Competency/ies (refer to the list of Core Competencies above):

Be prepared to elaborate on any of your answers as teachers may also ask you questions, such as “if you chose the assignment because you got an A on it, why do you think you deserved that A?”

Questions about the interview process? Ask any teacher or counsellor!
Have fun with this – it’s your time to celebrate your learning and development!

*Please note this form must be uploaded to your Core Comp team assignment along with your evidence of learning. Please only use office, word, or pictures of items. All other programs like google docs will not upload properly and cannot be read.

adapted from Moscrop Secondary School