SFU STEM Speakers Series – Eco-evolutionary Biology

The Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM) Speaker Series provides secondary school students with the opportunity to meet and interact with university students, faculty members, and/or working professionals in STEM fields. The October Talk is with Jawad Sakarchi, a PhD Candidate at the University of British Columbia in the department of Zoology. He researches how competition may create or prevent new species from emerging. He does this by incorporating math, competition theory, and the cutting edge of experimental design in ecology. Using this, he quantifies the intensity of competition and coexistence on a scale not done before and uncovers patterns of how separate populations evolve ecologically on their trajectory to become separate species. Join us on October 14 from 1:00 – 2:00pm on Zoom. To register go to : <https://sciencealive.ca/stem-speaker-series>
